Mission Ventures Thailand Foundation (MVTF)
Caring for local community children in Dannok

LITTLE SEEDS COMMUNITY CENTRE DANNOK

Mission Ventures Thailand Foundation (MVTF) carries a heartfelt burden to see churches rise as beacons of hope—actively caring for and supporting children in their local community. This calling flows from the Truth of the Bible, which emphasizes God's heart for the vulnerable, especially orphans and children in need.

For the MVT churches, the care of children is not just confined within the church walls but extends outward into the very heart of their community.

It is here that love in action, as well as care and compassion can bring about real and lasting transformation in their young lives.

Little Seeds community based child care is not merely about meeting physical needs; it is about nurturing the whole child—body, mind, and spirit. It ensures that children receive enough food to grow strong. Access to education to expand and equip their young minds. Creating a fun environment where they can thrive and discover their God-given potential. Importantly, it protects them from the traps of society—drugs, crime, and despair. Giving them instead a strong foundation of hope and a future filled with possibilities.

When children are loved and cared for from an early age, they are given the chance to grow into confident and capable adults who can stand on their own and bless the world around them.

By remaining within the embrace of their families and familiar surroundings, children experience a sense of warmth, belonging, and emotional security. They know they are not forgotten, not abandoned—but treasured.

Today, this vision of care is very much alive in the Lom Choy Community under the ongoing guidance and support of Mission Ventures Thailand Foundation—Sowing seeds of Truth and Love, that will bring change and a better and brighter future for them.

We thank God every day for giving us this vision and mission towards our next generation...

...to develop lives of these precious children and youth with wisdom and practical life skills.

...to grant the children knowledge and education for a better future.

...to impart moral values in these children so they may live with integrity and responsibility.

...to inspire creativity, to build up and nurture their special gifts for their practical use later.

...to prepare every child with vocational skills so they can stand strong in tomorrow's world.
